February

“Caring—Our Way of Life”

Editor’s Note

I hope everyone enjoyed their February vacation. I know I did. With all the hectic activities involving school, Key Club, and other activities I definitely needed that week off from it all. In actuality though, my vacation ended up being lots of work in and of itself. The Key Club officers had to work hard to get all of the award applications in for convention. We are trying to win several awards at convention, so keep your fingers crossed that we will actually win some of the ones we are trying for. Besides convention stuff though, our Key Club managed to work in a couple of interesting activities throughout the month of February. Some of these activities are discussed below.

Penny Harvest

The Penny Harvest went extremely well this year. We were able to really get the classes into it. In the end the seniors came up with the win. Juniors placed second, Sophomores placed third, and Freshmen came up fourth. Nice job!

Winter Carnival

The Winter Carnival, held on February 11, was kind of a let down because of the lack of snow. Many activities that the Colebrook Kiwanis had originally planned weren’t able to occur. Our club though again helped out with the cardboard sled race. For those who don’t know about it, the cardboard sled race is when kids design colorful and creative sleds out of cardboard boxes and race them down a hill. Prizes are awarded on creativity, fastest sled, and so on.

Our club also had representatives who participated in the bocce tournament. The team consisted of Travis, Joe, Nick, and Brian. Although they did not win, we should be proud of them for participating and representing our club well.

Reminders:

- ⇒ Convention is coming right up on March 31 and April 1-2. Be ready!
- ⇒ The scrapbook needs to be finished for Convention. If you can, attend the scheduled scrapbook meetings and help out as much as you can.
- ⇒ Check out the Key Club bulletin board for any news and information that you need.

Lieutenant Governor Elections

The Lieutenant Governor elections for our division were an interesting race. To begin with our club had to nominate only one member to run for the position. We ended up with two members who wanted the job. They were Casarra Hall and Travis Hebert. This meant that we had to have elections of our own to nominate only one member for the position. Casarra went first by giving a speech about why she thought she should be Lt. Governor. Then the floor was open to questioning. Next Travis did the same by giving his speech and answering questions. In the end Travis Hebert won our elections.

This meant that Travis moved on to the elections involving the entire division. On Monday, February 27 the elections were held in Canaan with Travis from Colebrook and Zach from Canaan. After a coin toss it was decided that Zach would begin with a speech. An earlier motion had decided that we were only going to allow up to 6 questions asked of the candidates to make the night go a little faster. After Zach’s 6 questions, Travis gave his speech and answered his questions as well. With voters from Colebrook, Canaan, Pittsburg, and Berlin the decision came out being in Travis’s favor. At convention he will take over as Lt. Governor of Division 8 from the present Lt. Governor Kyle Robidas.

Single—Service Report:

A major single service project that we are working on doing this year is RAD-kids. The program will be about kids protecting themselves. We are also looking to expand it to involve hate and bullying.

A local police officer, Officer Stevens, was sent to the training to learn how to teach the program. We will be working with him to develop the program for our school.

The point is to educate students and try to make school a safer environment
