What Is The Kiwanis International Foundation?

Kiwanis International Foundation, a not-for-profit corporation, was established by Kiwanis International in 1938, was chartered in 1939, and activated in 1940. It was awarded tax-exempt status by the US Internal Revenue Service in 1960.

The Foundation financially supports the service programs of Kiwanis International and its sponsored affiliates. It also serves as a provider of funds to other organizations to meet the needs of various publics. The Foundation enables Kiwanians and the general public to support several KI programs and organizations that have similar objectives and purposes. The KI programs are Key Club International and Circled K International.

The Foundation is committed to financially assisting world-wide service projects not possible for individual Kiwanians, their clubs, local club foundations, or their district foundations.

Every Kiwanian is a member of the Foundation. It is the special fund-raising arm of Kiwanis International. Its objective is to provide an endowment fund to which club members can contribute gifts and bequests. The Foundation Administrator and his staff carry out policies set by the foundation's Board of Trustees, members of which are appointed by the Kiwanis International Board.

The Grant Programs

The Foundation has in place many programs to which Kiwanians and others may contribute. These contributions ensure that the Foundation's grant programs are perpetuated. Examples of these grants include:

Circle K and Key Club Scholarships
Robert P. Connelly Heroism Awards
Reforestation---Norden District
The Thomas Jefferson Research Center

World Service Medal Recipients
Freedoms Foundation
Philippine Rehabilitation Hospital Project

The Foundation's total annual unrestricted giving is over $700,000 a year. A high percentage of that amount supports world-wide projects. Restricted funds include the Hixson Fellowship, which has a balance of over $2 million. Interest earned from this fund is used to support designated projects.

Each Kiwanian should find his or her preferred way to continually support the Foundation and its programs.

Add to already established programs through will or by naming the Foundation a beneficiary in an insurance policy. Also personal bequests for a new Foundation approved program bearing the name of the donor.

All contributions are recognized accordingly with either an award or certificate from the Foundation.

Contributions to the Foundation are tax deductible in the United States. Brochures about any of the Foundation's contribution programs are available. Just dial 1-800-879-4769 and ask for the Foundation. We'll be glad to send you one.
