Fines: There were also fines levied. You can bet on that when all three clubs get together!

Club News: It was certainly a lively crowd with Interclubs from St J and Berlin and we enjoyed every bit of it. Bob (Labnon) started out by singing our songs—apparently Sandra talked him into it. That probably wasn't hard as he was already singing to us as the Berlin group walked in the door. We were glad to see him and he looks great. He was whining about wanting some venison—said Stubby used to always have some for him. The St J group saw a moose on the way over so their trip wasn't a total waste.

St. J reported on their Fall Parade. They had 18 clowns. During the meeting we their bell to them (after Pres Gary presented an apology to Pres Wayne (who was absent) that his license plates had been stolen in retaliation and P Wayne drove home that night illegally without them. All through the meeting we kept an eye on our own bell and gavel. After the meeting adjourned they were handed to John Nick for safe keeping until St J and Berlin were out of town.

Berlin reported that they are working on their child i.d. program and their annual Parade of Lights for the day after Thanksgiving. They invited us to their 10/31 meeting and we must come in costume (fines will be doubled if not). Pres Dayna reported on the ongoing investigation of the poisoning of bocce teams last August during the tournament. He said the CDC, DEA, FBI, and Fish and Game are all certainly involved in getting to the bottom of the alleged criminal activities. Official investigative reports will be shared as soon as they receive them.

Grass Drags Food Booth Chair John Fal reported that last Saturday and Sunday's snowmobile races had to be cancelled due to flooding of the field and the rising river. We were fortunate that LaPerle's IGA allowed us to return the food, except for some eggs and muffins which are for sale after our meeting. We were glad our food shack was safe on high ground at the site and did not float downriver. A thank you card from Donna and Wade was read. We loaned them our picnic tables for their wedding reception. The October board meeting is Monday night at 7 PM—Monadnock Village. It was suggested that members wear costumes at our next week's meeting on Tuesday 10/31. They are optional.
